

COUPLE DIVORCED AFTER
26 YEARS OF MARRIAGE

Mary Danforth, 52, was granted a divorce from Lyman Danforth, 72, of near Elizabethtown, Indiana, and given $1,000 alimony in the Circuit Court at Columbus, Indiana, Thursday. The couple had been married twenty-six years. The wife testified that she was a Campbellite and her husband objected to her going to her church on the grounds that all Campbellites were hypocrites. To make her non-attendance double sure he forbade her the use of the horse and buggy for six months, she testified, but she walked a mile each Sunday to her church, while suffering from a severe injury to one of her legs she received in an interurban railway accident. The wife further testified that she had been told so often by her husband that all Campbellites were hypocrites that when asked her religion she replied that she was a hypocrite.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS.

When the "collect" telegram comes and there isn't a cent in the house.

When the intended calls suddenly and the fair one's hair is all upstairs on her dresser.

When you take a rich uncle into a thirt garage for a glass of seltzer and the bartender calls you by your first name and asks you how long you have been on the water wagon.

When the groom suddenly remembers that he left the ring at home in his other vest pocket.

When the bride first finds out that the groom has been telling her enlarged stories about his salary.

When a person gets a sudden invitation to attend a theatre party after having garlic salad or boiled onions for dinner.

The habitual backslider is, perhaps to be envied—he comes to sanctify each time with a new ecstasy—he sinks back into sin again each time with all the virginal zest of an Adam.

PRICE-BONNELLI'S FAMOUS MINSTRELS.

In speaking of the Price-Bonnelli Minstrels, which is to be the attraction at Paris Grand, on Wednesday night, March 21, the Bristol Daily Herald, of Bristol, Tenn., of December 2, had the following to say: "Diversified features, and new stuff, decidedly pleasing to local theatre patrons. Price-Bonnelli Minstrels held the boards at the Columbia Theatre last night, and re-established that form of amusement, which is so popular with Tennesseans." The performance is bigger and better than last season, if such could be possible, which is saying a good deal, as there were many in the performance who were present both times.

"The entire performance is bright and clean, and well put on, and the dull moments are few and far between there being something doing all the time. While it is not the biggest seen here, it is snappy enough to make a dull evening do a fade-away anytime."

THE CHAPPELL WILL.

The last will and testament of the late Mr. W. F. Chappell, who died at his home on South Main Street, Monday morning, was probated in the County Court, Thursday. The instrument, which disposed of valuable city property, the proceeds of a recent farm sale, and other personality, was dated as of March 7, 1917, being drawn a few days before Mr. Chappell's death. The will in full follows:

"I, W. F. Chappell, realizing the uncertainty of life, and being of sound mind, do make and declare this to be my last will and testament:

"1st—I desire and direct that my wife, Anna E. Chappell, be appointed Executrix of my estate and that the Court require of her no bond.

"2nd—I desire my Executrix to first pay out of my estate all of my funeral expenses and just debts.

"3rd—I desire that my Executrix complete my settlement as Administrator of my mother as soon as possible after my death.

"4th—I owe my son, Charles, $125, which I direct my Executrix to pay out of my estate without proof of claims for this amount.

"5th—After the satisfaction of the above legacies and devises, I devise and bequeath the balance of my estate, including all of my real estate and personal property, to my beloved wife, Anna E. Chappell, to be hers absolutely and in fee simple.

"In testimony thereof, witness my hand this 7th day of March, 1917.

"W. F. CHAPPELL, in our presence and by each of us in his presence, at his request, and in the presence of each other.

"MRS. ALICE PAYNE, "B. F. ROSS."

SOLDIER BOYS HOME SOON.

There will be rejoicing in many homes in Central Kentucky soon, as the First Kentucky Regiment, U. S. Infantry, which has been doing patrol duty on the Texas-Mexican border for over a year, is expected to arrive in Louisville early this week to be mustered out of the Federal service.

The First Kentucky includes Company I, of Lexington, commanded by Capt. Bain Morrison, and the Signal Corps, commanded by Capt. Otto Holstein. Newsum Keller, of Paris, is a member of the Signal Corps, and expects to return to his home here as soon as the Signal Corps reaches Lexington, and is demobilized. Included in this unit are a number of students from the University of Kentucky and the Transylvania University, at Lexington.

The Paris boys who are with the Texas regiments will likely have to remain in the service for some time yet, as the troubles along the border resulting from the alleged influences of German agents in plotting to embarrass the United States Government will necessitate keeping the regiments near the scene for some time as a precautionary measure.

CLEAN-UP TIME ALMOST AT HAND

It is not too early to sound a clean-up warning in Paris, so as to be ready for the actual work as soon as spring really arrives. After the long winter months there has been quite an accumulation of garbage and rubbish in the back yards of some householders who are not just as particular as they might be, and some of the alleys have an assortment of tin cans, etc., that would be well to have removed.

Now that Spring is ready, or almost ready to spread a covering of green over the earth, Paris citizens should get ready for an early clean-up day. A clean town presents a very attractive appearance, especially to outsiders who come here, besides it is of considerable sanitary value to the people of the city. Cleanliness and godliness, while not always going hand in hand, are very closely allied, and it should be a matter of civic pride with us to have a clean city. Start the good work.
